A few users are reporting timeouts during the installation. Some get a MySQL went away message.

These are indications that the php.ini setting for script timeouts may be too short. We encourage you to change the timeout setting in your php.ini, or ask your host to do it for you.