

jPFChat is not written to allow different chat rooms on different pages.

It's possible, but would require some significant chunks of code to be rewritten. We'll put it on our list of possible future features.